After teaching three years in NC, Ms. Jackson taught middle and high school orchestras in Henrico County, VA for 17 years. August 2012, she brought her energetic style of teaching to Hammond Middle School in Alexandria City Public Schools (ACPS). Ms. Jackson coordinated innovative and collaborative programming that increased participation in strings throughout ACPS. She was named Hammond Middle School Teacher of The Year 2017 and nominated in 2018 and 2019. Ms. Jackson is highly sought after to conduct and adjudicate full and string orchestras. She proudly serves as director of Arlington Concert Orchestra, a full symphonic orchestra for adults who have returned to playing their instruments. June 2020, Ms. Jackson accepted the position of orchestra director at Alexandria City High School, where the orchestra program continues to reach new heights of excellence. This summer, she looks forward to serving as Music Director of the Sewanee Summer Music Festival String Academy.
